

As the sunrises

As the sun rises, pouring its golden rays upon the calm sea waters, may the grace and possibility of the new day be a gift to each of us.

May the golden glow warm and soften your heart, reminding you that hope is renewed with the dawn of each new day.

May your breath come easy,
your steps be sure, and your spirit open to wonder.

May you meet the challenges of the day with courage and creativity.

May the beauty and diversity of creation around you stir your soul and fill it with gratitude.

Go into this new day with peace in your heart, golden light in your eyes, and love always guiding your way.

May it be so. Amen.
